

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY.

A pleasant feature of social life prevalent here, and probably in other places as well, is that which the ladies have of asking their friends to call some special afternoon to meet any guest they may have visiting them. No invitations are sent, but a lady asks any friends she may meet to come and call, and frequently asks that one to extend the invitation to some of her friends. There is supposed to be no formality to the calling, any more than there is for anyone who has a day to be at home. Frequently chocolate and wafers, or tea and cake, are served. It is a pleasant, informal way of introducing new acquaintances and during the past week several such gatherings have occurred.

The week has been unusually gay, notwithstanding the decidedly inclement weather, and from Monday till Saturday there has been something going on. The receptions by Mrs. J. R. Carnahan and daughter, Wednesday, and by Mrs. L. T. Michener, Thursday, were very pleasant affairs. The latter was largely attended by ladies from Shelbyville, Mrs. Michener's former home. The first fair of the season was held by the Mannerich Society, and was a great success. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McKee gave a drive whist party Wednesday evening, in honor of Mrs. J. R. McKee, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Fraser gave a dinner party to the same lady Friday evening. Mrs. Stanton J. Peelle gave a thimble party, as did Mrs. John M. Shaw and Mrs. P. C. Purcell. There have been several small afternoon and evening companies. There are quite a large number of visitors in town, and more will come this week. The first of the holidays comes with Thanksgiving, and the coming week is to have several notable social events, in the way of evening parties and receptions. In the morning the rehearsals are being held for the Kirmess dances for the Flower Mission Breton Fete, to open Dec. 2.
